About CTIF

CTIF was founded in Paris in 1900 for encouraging and promoting co-operation among fire fighters and other experts in fire and rescue throughout the world.

CTIF

- organizes international conferences
- organizes competitions attended by more than 3.000 fire fighters and youth fire brigades from around the world;
- develops comprehensive world fire statistics by publishing annual reports which offer data on fire issues from 80 different countries and 90 capital cities.

CTIF has 10 thematic commissions and four working groups through which the experts are able to network, develop their expertise and share best practices in each topic.

CTIF has 36 member countries as ordinary members and nearly 50 associate members, among them several private and public organizations such as fire equipment manufacturers, fire and rescue associations and training centers.

CTIF is run by President Mr. Tore ERIKSSON (Sweden), General Secretary Mr. Michel BOUR (France) and Treasurer Mr. Laurent WEHRLI (Switzerland).
